Spring into action for MSOA and orthopaedics

Greetings to you from Columbia. Spring is here and it is time to begin thinking about all the great opportunities we have to get outside of our busy offices. Over the next couple of months, your Missouri State Orthopaedic Association has several opportunities for fellowship and education that I wanted to bring to your attention.

On April 5, at the Hammons Heart Institute in Springfield, we will have another popular regional meeting. As in the past, we will convene at 5:30 p.m. for a reception and have an opportunity to talk with legislators from this part of Missouri about our priorities and concerns. Following this, I have been requested to deliver a scientific presentation about "Antibiotics for Orthopaedics; Prophylaxis and New Bacteria from Iraq."

We have scheduled a State Lobby Day on April 11. This is the second annual lobby day in Jefferson City. It is an effective way to communicate with your state representatives and state senators about issues that directly affect orthopaedics. It's also good exercise—physically and mentally—for our annual trip to lobby our federal lawmakers in Washington, D.C.

On May 4, MSOA's award-winning Executive Directors will lead a delegation of Missouri orthopaedic surgeons to lobby on federal issues in Washington D.C. If you plan on attending the NOLC, please plan on joining them in educating our federal legislators.

June 1-2 is the MSOA 38th Annual Meeting. The meeting will be held at the beautifully restored Chase Park Plaza in St. Louis. On Friday evening we hold our highly successful legislative reception where we have an opportunity to both thank and energize the legislators who support our causes. An exciting program is planned for Saturday's meeting.

Jason Calhoun, M.D. is the President of the Missouri State Orthopaedic Association and chair of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery at MU's School of Medicine.

I would like to thank Dr. Dirk Alander who has worked tirelessly on developing the program again this year. It promises to be as informative and fun as last year. Please see the enclosed flyer for more detailed information.

I look forward to seeing you at one or all of the great events your Missouri Orthopaedic Association has planned for you.

Program chair announces 2007 meeting agenda

The Missouri State Orthopaedic Association will return to the Chase Park Plaza in St. Louis for its 38th Annual Meeting on June 1-2, 2007.

This year's meeting will feature scientific presentations dealing with pediatrics, shoulder arthroplasty, musculoskeletal tumors, and common but difficult elbow problems.

Last year's popular program will be continued with a commander's view of trauma management in Iraq.

MSOA's Fourth Annual Legislative Reception will be held on Friday, June 1 honoring members of the Missouri General Assembly.

In 2007, MSOA anticipates record attendance so please make your hotel reservations early.

The Chase Park Plaza features several restaurants and live entertainment. Families can enjoy the hotel's five-screen cinema, and the nearby Science Center, a fabulous Zoo and shopping in the trendy Central West End.

MSOA members will receive a deluxe guest room for a special room rate of $179.

Reservations can be made by calling the Chase Park Plaza at 314.633.3000 or toll-free at 877.587.2427. Please mention the MSOA meeting to qualify for the MSOA rate.

MSOA sponsors are partners in physician education

Attendees at MSOA's 38th Annual Meeting will have the opportunity to visit with industry leaders and suppliers on the newest technology available to orthopaedic physicians.

"MSOA's sponsors are truly partners in education who keep physicians up-to-date on the latest trends in orthopaedics," said MSOA Director Brian Treece.

"With their support, we are able to continue our level of service to our members."

Several sponsors plan to exhibit specialty surgical implants and instruments.

Electronic medical records are at the forefront of healthcare reform. Providers of digital chart software, including packages designed by orthopaedic surgeons for orthopaedic practices, will be on hand to display the newest technology available.

In addition, physicians can visit with medical liability carriers about ways to save money on premiums.

Trauma management in Iraq was one of the most popular presentations at last year's conference. This year, the U.S. Army Medical Recruiting Company will be in the MSOA exhibit hall looking for a few good orthopaedic physicians.

Join MSOA in supporting our sponsors. Plan to attend the 38th Annual Meeting and visit the exhibit hall.

MSOA physicians donate to the future of orthopaedics

The MSOA Political Action Committee gives orthopaedic physicians a voice in the political process.

Some MSOA members go to fundraisers or host an event in their home for a candidate. In addition to these individual ways of assisting a candidate, contributions to the MSOA PAC are a way of aggregating and quantifying good will toward elected officials.

When used in combination with grassroots support and professional lobbying efforts, PACs can increase the effectiveness of securing MSOA's priorities.

By contributing to MSOA's PAC, you can help a legislator receive help from "all the orthopaedic physicians in Missouri."

MSOA needs your support for our initiatives. Sending a check is a quick and easy way to give us your support. It's also an investment in your professional future.

More than 50 physicians have already contributed to the MSOA PAC.

If you have not done so, please consider contributing to our legislative efforts by sending a check to: MSOA PAC, P.O. Box 2124, Jefferson City, MO 65102.
